

June 10,

Dearest June:

I have time for a few lines and also time to send you the picture that I promised. I guess by now Mom has given you a copy but here it is anyway.

I've been getting along swell lately and I tell you I wouldn't have missed this for anything. I guess the States took the news of the invasion with lots of excitement. I had a birds eye view of the affair that I will be able to tell you about some day.

I'm sending you in another parcel a few copies of the Stars & Stripes and a copy of Yank. I hope you enjoy reading them.

Haven't heard from Shirley in over a week, but he is O.K. I'm sure. I hope to see him soon. He has some pictures that I will send home soon. I gave them to him when we both thought that he was to go home.

Nick is still doing a very good job as a first pilot and is in the best of health!

I wish I could be home this month. June is always the best month on the gulf. We could have a wonderful time kids. Couldn't we?

I'll let you go for now.

as ever
Bill
